IMPORTANT MESSAGE

Our next meeting is Wednesday, September 6th, 2017 AT 7 P.M.* (DOORS OPEN 6 P.M.)! Paul R. Petch will present "Wonderful Things' Dora de Pédery-Hunt's personal art medal collection; all of the pieces being made by other medallists from around the world." This is a bit shorter version of his RCNA educational talk but will still be quite good.

Sat., July 22nd, 2017, during the RCNA banquet, Paul (below right) was presented the J. Douglas Ferguson Historical Research Foundation Award for 2017 by the Chairman of the Board of Award, Ronald Greene. (below left). Paul is very humbled and grateful for this award. This award recognizes distinguished service to Canadian numismatics. (photo below by Dan Gosling)

There more GOLD IN THE HILLS! Be sure to learn more inside this issue about GOLD in one of our draws in September!!!

Many thanks to Linda Blair who has a heart of GOLD, has taken on the mailing of newsletters to those unable to receive digital, and printing off newsletters and auction sheets for meetings and our shows.

Our SWCS fall coin show is coming up in September (see flyer inside this issue). Once again, we need assistance for set up and tear down, especially to aid some dealers with medical conditions. Please see Mike Hollingshead to sign up to volunteer (setup / teardown, security, admissions, kids table). Even if you can only spare an hour, all help is appreciated. The shows are what enable us to keep our membership and auction fees low, to provide free refreshments, to issue medals, and to hold special events like our pizza night.

Bring along a friend or two to our next meeting, share the FUN and LAUGHTER!! Remember to purchase draw tickets and GO FOR THE GOLD!!

Club Report & News reported by Mike Hollingshead and photos by Judy Blackman

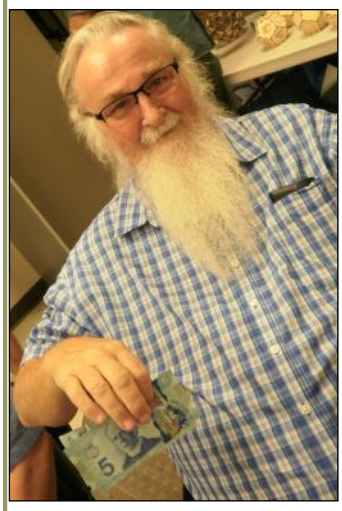
Our August meeting seen 24 regular members in attendance.

Draws:



The August Members Attendance Draw was for a $10 cash prize and the lucky member was indeed present. Ray Zoethout claimed the $10 and took some friendly ribbing for his excellent beard! What can I say, it's a work of art somewhere between Father Christmas and ZZ Top. I guest that is as versatile as it comes?

Congratulations Ray! September's draw drops back to $5.

The King Arthur's Treasurer Draw was a 129-item equivalent and won by John Semedo.

A big thank you to Robin Semedo for assisting with the draw tickets and also for a very kind donation to SWCS, the proceeds from a Cdn. $20 RADAR note that sold in the August auction.

Thank you to Mel Brown and Judy Blackman for yummy treats, and Mike Hollingshead for getting the coffee-maker to cooperate!

The Daytona Draw saw some spirited participation. The winner was Heather Hoddinott and to everyone's surprise, she chose envelope #4, breaking the monotony of the dreaded "Envelope #3." The envelope was put up for bids and was finally bid to $22 by Ray Zoethout.

As her son Peter smiles with pride, Heather chose to accept the cash and Ray went home with an RCM 1990 Cdn. PL set ($13.95), a 1995 Cdn. PL set ($9.95), and a 1972 Cdn. Specimen Double-Penny 7-coin set in case ($10.00) with a combined retail value of $33.90.

ZZ Top was happy with his prizes!

GOLD: Next month's Daytona Draw will feature an RCM 1/25 troy ounce GOLD coin. Since we have dropped the gold coin draw at our coin show, the club has two gold coins in inventory. These gold coins "Trend" at over $100 so it makes either winning the draw or bidding for the envelope that much more appealing. Will you be the lucky winner of the GOLD coin and the bigger question: WHICH ENVELOPE WILL HAVE THE GOLD COIN??

Education:

The man of many hats Ben Dettweiler (President of the Waterloo Coin Society and Bourse Chairperson for the Ontario Numismatic Association) travelled from Kitchener to Rockwood to present SWCS folks with a fascinating illustrated talk on Jetons. He got interested in them after finding some in the Colonial Acres Coins' discount bin. His interest grew rapidly as he discovered they are rather thinly traded and currently available at great prices. They feature amazing artwork, engraving, historically relevant commemorations, royalty and history. Ben brought out part of his collection and SWCS members were quite amazed at the beauty of the tokens. Ben said that even the restrikes exhibit great artwork and are sought out just as much as the impossible to afford originals. Thank you Ben for once again assisting in a comradely way for a local club.

2017-October: Ernie Blair on "Canadian Precious Medals." If you caught Ernie on Pocket Change Radio, you know this will be a very interesting presentation!

2017-November: Scott and Mike are working on a couple of out-of-town guest speakers to see which one we can synchronize our schedule with — stay tuned!

2017-December: our food bank drive, and Scott Douglas will give another Christmas Medals presentation (different from last's year's).

Other Business:

"Mr Tool And Coin", Sean Sinclair brought some much-needed and beautifully tooled plexi-glass holders for the SWCS Wellington Medals. The medals, which were produced to celebrate the 175th Anniversary of the District of Wellington and the SWCS 20th Anniversary proved impossible to be put into existing coin holders available from dealers with security against movement that could cause wear and damage the medal. Sean spent much time and effort to laser-cut all the holders individually and provided them to SWCS at a very fair price point.

Mike Hollingshead reported that upon arriving home with the four holders he bought, he quickly placed his three Wellington medals in and they fit exactly with no friction on the obverse or reverse! The fourth holder became a protective custody for a large Hobbit Medal that was brought back from Middle Earth (actually New Zealand) by a niece.

President Scott Douglas has a small supply of the holders for SWCS members to purchase at cost. If anyone needs a first-class secure, inert holder for a treasured coin, email Sean at toolandcoin@gmail.com. They resemble the classic Allstate holders of the 1950-60's, but better made of harder material!!

Scott Douglas gave an update on the RCNA 6-day convention he had just returned from, and the donations the SWCS made to both Canadian Association For Numismatic Education (CAFNE) and the J. D. Ferguson Historical Research Foundation (JDFHRF), and the thank you letters received. There is a new RCNA award, The Charles D. Moore Award to be awarded annually to an eligible professional numismatist who is an RCNA member. The first presentation (July 2017) was to Sandy Campbell.

Judy Blackman with must assistance from Albert Dayeh (who translated the Farsi on the coins and stamps both of which have no dates on them) explained about a package of five 1960s mint sets sent directly from the Iranian Mint to a numismatist in Toronto. Even the envelope and stamps were very interesting.

Reign: Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi SH 1320-1957 (AD 1941-1979) Persian Bank Markazi in Tehran, Iran mint copper-nickel 4-coin set issued SH 1344(1965), which includes 1 Rial—Value within crowned wreath—radiant lion holding sword within crowned wreath—KM#1171a, 18.3m,1.75g/; 2 Rials—Value within crowned wreath. Legend: Muhammad Reza Pahlavi — radiant lion holding sword within crown wreath—KM#1173, 22.3, 3.00g; 5 Rials—Value within crowned wreath. Radiant lion holding sword within crowned wreath—KM#1175a, 25.6mm, 5.00g; and 10 Rials—Crown above value and legend within wreath. Crown above radiant lion holding sword within wreath—KM#1177a, 31.0mm, 9.00g.

The market shows the set selling for $15-$20 USD. The KP 2015 Standard Catalog of World Coins 42nd Edition lists Mint Sets and shows SH1343-44 as $20 USD. The Lion and Sun, or Shir-o-khorshid, is one of the better-known emblems of Iran, and between 1423 and 1979 was an element in Iran's national flag. The motif, which combines ancient Iranian, Arab, Turkish, Mongol and Jewish traditions, became a popular symbol in Iran in the 12th century. The date itself is an SH (solar Hejira) date, which is based on the life of Muhammed. To get the AD (Gregorian) date, add 621 to the SH date.

In other words: AD date = SH date + 621. For the 1313 coin, the AD date is 1934. You can note the Persian number 5 in the centre of this coin for 5 Rials.

She also shared The Woodlot's wooden flats mirrored after the pre-Polymar Cdn. Banknotes, and the hand-cut rounds with the Cdn. coin images.

Auction:

Thank you to Mike Hollingshead our Auctioneer, Peter Becker who was runner, and Lowell Wierstra for putting together the auction lots. Lowell welcomes your consignments, and remember we keep our consignment fees very low, if not the lowest in Ontario. The SWCS commission charged to consignors: Sold for under $20, auction fee is 25 cents and items sold for over $20 fee is $1. Pretty simple. No buyers premium, no sales tax. Bring your items to consign to the meeting or contact Lowell Wierstra at ljwierstra@rogers.com or call 519-824-6534! Please use the new consignment form. We are now accepting auction items for November 2017.

Coin Puzzle:

This one is a Brain Basher courtesy of Kevin Stone:

A numismatist decides to divide his coin collection between his children. The eldest gets 1/2 of the collection, the next gets 1/4, the next gets 1/5, and the youngest gets the remaining 49 coins.

How m any coins are in the collection?

This one is Forums.Collectors courtesy of CharlieB:

The wife finally had enough and complained to her husband that he paid more attention grading his silly coin collection than to her.

Unscramble each word below then take all the 8 letters in the "X" positions and used them to complete the phrase below.

EVERLOOTS __X__ __ __X X__
FOROP __ __ __ __X
NIDNIA __ __X__X__
SHOWTINNAG __ __ __X__ __ __ __X__

What the wife said to her husband: " Honey, I am grading you as a __ __ __ __ __ __ __ __."

Solutions:

There are 980 coins in the collection. To check this we add: 1÷2 + 1÷4 + 1÷5 + 49. This works out as 490 + 245 + 196 + 49 = 980, as required. To work the answer out from the question, we observe that: 1÷2 + 1÷4 + 1÷5 = 19÷20 and we know that there were 49 coins left, so 1÷20 of the collection is 49 coins, which means that the entire collection is 20 x 49 = 980 coins.

Answers: ROOSEVELT, PROOF, INDIAN, WASHINGTON, and the quote, "Honey, I am grading you as a FOOLHEAD."

For example, the following put-down of the Flowing Hair and Small Eagle devices, which appeared in a letter from one Carlile Pollock to a certain General Williams of Salem, New York: "Nothing can be more wretched: an unmeaning fool's head on one side, and something that resembles a turkey cock on the other. Oh, shame, shame, shame! The Eagle of America mantling the arms of the United States, as we see it on the City Hall, would have been a dignified impression, and on the other side, if the President's head should be too aristocratic, a plough and a sheaf of wheat would be better than an Idiot's head with flowing hair, which was meant to denote Liberty, but which the world will suppose was intended to designate the head of an Indian squaw."

FRANCOIS XAVIER PAQUET

[DYK #092 —printed with consent of author Scott E. Douglas]

DID YOU KNOW ?

.....that one of the people responsible for creating some of the early token off-metal strikes was also the man that created the line drawings for P. N. Bretons well known book Illustrated History of Coins and Tokens Relating to Canada?

Francois Xavier Paquet was born on January 12, 1845 in Quebec city but spent his early years in St. Jean Port Joli. In 1859 he began studies at St. Anne la Pocatiere until 1864 when he embarked on a career as a notary in St. Jean Port Joli. Five years later he began working as a general agent and telegrapher for the Grand Trunk Railway, the Levis and Kennebec railways, as well as the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Occidental railways. Here he stayed until 1883 when he was appointed as a draftsman at the chief architects office by the minister of public works. He later became superintendent of exchange.

Among the many talents of Mr. Paquet we can also include painter and illustrator. He was very skillful in water colours, on satin, vellum paper, etc., and illuminated many official presentation addresses. One such presentation was given by the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Ottawa to Queen Victoria on her golden jubilee in 1887.

Paquet collected various things in his lifetime such as insects, minerals, stamps and coins. Later, he sold his 3800 piece stamp collection so as to concentrate on coins and tokens. An exhibit at the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa saw him awarded several prizes.

Paquet was one of the 14 founders of the Numismatic Society of Ottawa, (Breton #825/100 issued) but it would seem this society never really got off the ground as it folded about 2 or 3 years later. One reason may be, as one observer put it "the founders were somewhat of a cultural clique with the membership a sort of mutual admiration society."

In 1893 Paquet compiled a catalog The Illustrated Catalog and Price List of Medals, Checks, and Communion Tokens of Ottawa and District. although its said not to have been published several copies exist in various stages of completion. Paquet also issued a second publication called 'Canadian Numismatist.' this publication was available by subscription but would appear to only have had a minor following, existing for about one year. Paquet was known to have provided the line drawings, which were used to make wooden dies, for illustrating P. N. Bretons popular book Illustrated History of Coins and Tokens Relating to Canada.

Paquet was incredibly energetic in the 1890's and was heavily involved with Pritchard and Andrews, the token makers, in soliciting business for the creation of checks, good for tokens, as well as numismatists cards etc. This was later to become a source of embarrassment for Pritchard and Andrews as they had to insist on Paquet obtaining permission from the issuer before he ordered the checks and cards he wanted.

Correspondence, thankfully preserved and later donated by J.D. Ferguson to the National Currency Collection in Ottawa, paint a picture of a numismatist tirelessly writing letters and soliciting numismatic business. Some of these letters show evidence of off metal samples of collectors and merchants cards being ordered by Paquet and give good explanation to the varieties and mules that are available today. Paquet's activities have left today's collector with some excellent varieties to pursue.

BRITISH KING HENRY VII GOLD SOVEREIGNS

The first English gold sovereign was struck in 1489 by order of King Henry VII. There were different gold sovereigns struck for King Henry, all without dates on them as was usual in the 15th Century. The Royal Mint's history of gold sovereigns from 1489—1989 originally believed the first issue has the king's throne set against an elaborate diapered background, and on the reverse a small shield is placed in the centre of a large rose. This was disproved in that the first of all was a coin of which only one specimen survived, fortunately in the British Museum collection since 1915. This coin was partly copied from another large gold coin, the real d'or struck in the Netherlands by the Holy Roman Emperor Maximilian in 1487. The enthroned king sits in splendour, but against a simpler background. The reverse is much bolder, with the shield bigger in proportion to the rose and surmounted by a magnificent crown. This is referred as "The Tudor Sovereign." The Tudors gained effective international recognition in the Treaty of Medina del Campo (by which Henry VII's son and heir, Arthur, was to marry a Spanish princess).

There are five different types of Henry VII's sovereign and the denomination seems to have been coined periodically through the reign on a limited scale, even if perhaps an original provision that two were to be struck from every pound of gold may not always have been carried out. Sovereigns were issued as part of the first and second coinages of Henry VIII but production seems not to have been continuous. In particular, it seems that no sovereigns were produced in the decade or so after 1526. For the sake of clarity, issues of the Tudor sovereign can be usefully divided into three groups: sovereigns struck in fine (995) gold; sovereign issues of the Great Debasement; and sovereigns struck in crown (916) gold after the Debasement.

Fine Gold: Henry VII Type 1 The designs for all sovereigns struck in fine gold consist of an enthroned portrait and a shield of the Royal Arms set against a Tudor rose. But the first issue of 1489, of which only a couple of specimens are known to survive, is highly distinctive – both for the simple background on the obverse and the large crown above the shield on the reverse. More so than any of the later types, the first sovereign bears a striking resemblance to the real d'or – a gold coin issued in 1487 in the Netherlands. It may be that the Dutch coin served as the prototype for the sovereign, or it may be that the real d'or and the sovereign were both inspired by current Spanish gold coins.

Fine Gold: Henry II Type 2 In the past it has been broadly accepted that the sovereign of the second type, with its field liberally scattered with fleurs de lys, was struck in connection with the French expedition of 1492. But this seems less likely in the light of recent work.

Fine Gold: Henry II Type 3 Perhaps the most distinctive features of the third type are the greyhound and dragon standing on the pillars of the throne. The dragon was Henry's badge at the battle of Bosworth Field and is said to have been the ensign of Cadwaladr, 'the last king of the Britons', from whom Henry claimed descent.

Fine Gold: Henry II Type 4 Coins of the fourth type, all struck from a single pair of dies, are the least rare of Henry VII sovereigns.

Fine Gold: Henry II Type 5 The portcullis of the House of Beaufort, a symbol of the Tudor dynasty, was inserted below the enthroned portrait on the fifth type. Henceforth, the basic lay-out of the design would change very little on the fine sovereigns of Henry VII's successors.
